A Forward from The Rt. Revd. James Grier: Bishop of Plymouth

Even a cursory glance at the life and achievements of Sabine Baring-Gould is enough to make me feel exhausted and somewhat inadequate. What am I doing with my time? It's amazing not only to reflect on all that he did in his lifetime but also on his legacy one hundred years on. These centenary celebrations promise to pay a fitting tribute and to enable people to discover even more of all that he did and achieved.

I am particularly intrigued by the fact that, in the midst of everything else, he retained a calling throughout his life. From the age of 17, he held three aims:

- § supporting St Peter's church, Lewtrenchard
- § improving the family house and estate of Lewtrenchard
- § nurturing the spiritual wellbeing of the parishioners of Lewtrenchard

I hope that these celebrations not only look back but also build on that calling. His family home is now a hotel and guests continue to enjoy it. The church retains its beauty and is a focus for worship, festivals and life events. I hope that it continues to serve the people of the local community. I also hope and pray that the church community can stimulate, nurture and support faith and spiritual wellbeing in fresh ways, inspired by his example and creativity.

With my best wishes for all the events and celebrations

+James

A Forward from The Baring-Gould Family.

On behalf of the Baring-Gould family, I would like to thank everyone for gathering to commemorate Sabine Baring-Gould's legacy. Throughout the decades, so many of you have worked tirelessly and creatively to preserve interest in and shed light upon those great and varied subjects Sabine advanced. We are continually impressed and grateful for this. There is no greater example than the exciting array of commemorative events being planned for 2024. Members of our family will be delighted to be present throughout, starting with the service at St. Peter's Church on January 2, 2024. Through the past 50+ years, we have been honored to see both children and grandchildren christened at St. Peter's Church, and our daughter married there as well. We thank everyone for the warm welcome this community always gives to the far-flung members of the Baring-Gould diaspora, a spreading out that Sabine himself encouraged. We know Sabine would have been relieved if not downright delighted to witness how the many activities and values he held dear are celebrated today, a century after his death. As we approach the fifth century of the family's relationship with Lew Trenchard in 2026, we marvel at the vibrancy of the Lew Trenchard community, its sense of purpose, history, and fellowship. We thank you all for your contributions to this magnificent year of commemoration.

Dear Reader,

As one of the successors of The Revd Sabine Baring-Gould as Parish Priest at Lewtrenchard, I am very excited to welcome you to our year of special commemorations of his life in this, the centenary year of his death.

Baring-Gould is known for major contributions to many and various aspects of our national life, and there are many communities and associations who will be celebrating and reflecting on this during 2024.

Here at St. Peter's, however, the focus is quite rightly on his historic links with this area and his zeal and passion for the Christian Gospel. These values he lived out, using all his skill and family resources, as a faithful and passionate Christian Priest in pastoral care, social activism, and in worship and preaching.

From January 2nd to 20th October, we will be celebrating his contributions to church and community life and reflecting on the legacy he has left us, and the foundations he helped lay for us.

Do please join us as we work to build on what he did a century ago to bring the truth of the Gospel of Jesus to those who live and worship with us today, and if you have any family or personal links, do please let us know and share them.

Our programme of events is continually evolving and includes worship, music, artistic and social events. It is available as part of the Sabine Baring-Gould Centenary Website and also fully on the North Tamar Mission Community Website. There will also be an evolving display in St. Peter's church. Do please keep in touch with what we are planning and come and join in.

With best wishes, love, and prayers
